WARD OWENS HURT AT PATERSON CLAY WORKS EARLY TODAY

Ward Owens, 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Owens, of Lawrence township, was quite seriously injured at the Paterson Clay Works about 8 o'clock this morning. He was working on the clay dump, shoveling clay into the grinding pan when the accident occurred.

The clay from the mines is run into the plant and dumped from the tipple, a distance of 12 feet, to the platform alongside the pan, from whence it is shoveled into the pan.

A trip of cars ran onto the tipple, the signal was given and a car dumped. All the men in the shoveling crew stepped back out of the way but Owens, who was caught by the falling clay, knocked down and severely cut and bruised about the head and shoulders.

Fellow workemen rescued him from under the clay and Dr. Waterworth was summoned to the works, and after administering first aid, had the badly injured man removed to the hospital, where his injuries were attended to.

SAW AUTO ACCIDENT AND INJURY OF HER BROTHER IN DREAM

An instance of mind telepathy or "coming events casting their shadows before them," is reported from Grampian, in connection with the fatal automobile accident near Akron, Ohio, Monday morning last, in which four people were killed. The story as we get it, is as follows:

A sister of Elmer Rafferty, one of the victims of the tragedy, was visiting with another sister at Hepburnia, and retired to her couch on Saturday evening in the best of spirits and without a thought of sadness. Along toward Sunday morning she had a dream in substance that her brother had met his death by an accident. She awoke screaming with fright, sleep refusing to visit her again. Such an impression had the vision made upon her mind that she refused to remain with her sister during the day, to whom she recounted her dream. She went home and upon arriving there, the first bit of news that greeted her was the death of that brother, he family in Grampian having just received notification of the accident.

DELAWARE LEGISLATURE REFUSES TO RATIFY

DOVER, Del, June 2—The Delaware Legislature adjourned sine die at 3:30 p. m. today without ratifying the suffrage amendment. There was a test vote shortly before adjournment, when Representative Lyon, majority floor leader, attempted to force the House into kcommittee of the whole to consider the suffrage ratification resolution. Lyon's motion was lost by 24 votes to 10.

Three members of the Legislature early today received telegrams from President Wilson urging all Democrats in the House to vote for suffrage.

BATON ROUGE, La., June 2—By a vote of 93 to 17 the House today passed the resolution proposing an amendment to the state constitution providing equal suffrage. The resolution was put forward by opponents of the proposal that Louisiana ratify the federal suffrage amendment but in the vote today it was supported by many adherents of ratification.

MEDIX RUN REGION DEVASTATED BY FIRE

Reports from Medix Run last evening stated that it was raining quite briskly in that region and that if the moisture continued the large force of fighters would be enabled to place the forest fires that have been raging in that vicinity completely under control by morning. Without the coming of the rains it is probable that the damage would have been staggering.

As it was the fires had burned over an area of about 12 square miles, starting in at Huntleys and traveling through almost to Driftwood. The fire was of great intensity and cleaned up practically everything in its path. Fortunately the force of fighters was enabled to keep the flames out of the forest reserve so that none of the seedlings was destroyed.

There were two hunting camps destroyed, the Wood camp and the Stone camp. The last named camp is owned by DuBois people and represents quite a large loss. Although the structure was built almost entirely of stone, it burned readily, once the fire started. The camp and vicinity were well brushed but the wind carried sparks that caught somewhere around the building and within a short time it was burned to the ground. The party of members of the camp who left for the scene of the fire yesterday reached there in time to see the camp burn. Had they arrived one hour earlier the structure would have been saved. There was no fire in the immediate vicinity of the camp. The Lincoln farm, about 8 miles above Medix, was in imminent danger of burning last evening, but it is believed that the rains will extinguish the fires to a point where the farm can be saved.

Charles Zerby, the resident forester, immediately organized a large force of men and the fight against the flames started. The fire, however, had attained such a good start and the woods were so dry, that very little could be done. In all about 150 men engaged in the fight against the element, battling Tuesday, Tuesday night and yesterday. The men were becoming exhausted from the intense heat and hard work and greatly welcomed the coming of the rains. They went into camp last evening, as the rains gave prospect of continuing all night. It is expected to be an easy matter to conquer the flames this morning.

The seething flames formed a great spectacle from the station at Medix as they mounted towards the sky. Dense volumes of smoke pervaded the entire section. The onrush of the fire caused wild game to scatter in terror and the fire fighters saw hundreds of deer as they scampered away to a safe haven. The preserves were the Mecca for these deer. It is believed that many fawns were destroyed. It is the season for fawns and undoubtedly the fire caused the death of many. The fire fighters captured three fawns only a few weeks old. One of the young animals broke away from its captors and rushed back into the blazing woods. The other two were taken into camp and will be kept until they are able to take care of themselves.

Word reached Medix last evening that several of the officials of the forestry department at Harrisburg had left for the scene of the fire to conduct an investigation into the origin and extent of the fire. They will probably arrive this morning.

AKRON WRECK VICTIMS BURIED AT GRAMPIAN

The remains of Sylvester Rafferty, Albert Rafferty and Elmer Rafferty, three of the victims of the automobile accident near Akron, Ohio, early Monday morning last, were brought to their homes in Grampian yesterday.

The first two named were brothers and were sons of James A. Rafferty, while Elmer Rafferty was the son of Harry Rafferty. The bodies were taken to the Catholic church where they were viewed by the host of friends of the young men in the vicinity. The funeral occurred this morning from the church and was in charge of Funeral Director F. B. Leavy of Clearfield.

The young lady who was killed in the wreck was buried at Akron. Miss Katherine Rafferty, the fifth victim, and a sister of Elmer Rafferty, is a patient in the hospital at Akron and hopes for her recovery are now entertained.

BRADFORD FLYER DROPS IN ON US

Yesterday afternoon Clearfield people were given a few exhibition flying stunts not on any published program and the result showed that our people are still more or less curious about man-controlled air birds. About 3:30 o'clock a neat little Curtis machine appeared flying low over the town. The pilot circled the town a couple of times and as his motor was shut off it was soon see that the aerial visitor was seeking a landing place.

The kids enjoying the lower swimming hole near the Reed farm, saw the machine and quickwittedly marked a landing cross with their shirts and other unmentionables in the field along the river. The birdman swooped down, but when he noted the roughness of the ground he ascended again and describing a beautiful circle down the river, turned back when just below Spruce street and gracefully flopped down into the meadow along the state road on A. B. Reed's farm, just above the Children's Home.

The Progress scribe, accompanied by Moe Robinson, and four hundred other Clearfielders in half that many automobiles, followed the air man up the river and landed at the meadow as the flyer settled gracefully into the grass. When the pilot hopped out of his machine we promptly demanded to know his name, his home, his business, his idea in hanging up here and his previous condition of servitude.

The young man informed us his name was W. H. Emery, Jr., of Bradford, Pa., a relative of Lewis Emery, Jr. He said he had been doing some flying stunts at Johnstown Memorial Day and was on his way home. He had just sailed over from Indiana, and running short of gas, decided to tarry over night in Clearfield.

Of course when we found our visitor to be one of our constituents from the 21st Congressional District, we got busy at once and introduced the intruder to Mr. Reed and Farmer Gulich, who were not altogether sure that an airplane top-dressing with its attendant crowd of sightseers was the best thing in the world for the 1920 hay crop at that particular point. Pilot Emery satisfied them that it was not so bad and after he gave the Farmer a jaunt through the clouds, he saw things from a different angle. Mr. Reed was asked to give the machine a whirl, but said he preferred to look the matter over from the ground, and all was well.

Mr. Emery is arranging to organize an airplane building corporation at Bradford and is seeking out locations for flying fields in this section and contemplates one at Clearfield and one at Indiana. He will remain in Clearfield today and has arranged to take up a number of passengers for joy rides this evening. If you have a hankering to look down upon your neighbors, see Mr. Emery at the Reed farm.

FOREST FIRE ON LAUREL RUN

A forest fire swept the county at the headwaters of Laurel Run Tuesday afternoon and was only subdued after the most strenuous efforts by a crew of twenty-fice fire fighters under the direction of State Forester William F. Dague.

Billy Dague is about the busiest man in this region these days. As a sample of what he is up against during this exceptionally dry spring, he was in receipt of calls from three different regions Tuesday.

The forester at Snow Shoe again appealed to Mr. Dague for help for his section, while about the time he got the call to go to Laurel Run and was lining up his forces for that section another call came from the headwaters of Medix Run, near the Elk county line, where a fierce fire is raging.

Mr. Dague and a part of his force remained at the Panther Rocks camp Tuesday night, having the Laurel Run fire under control at 12 o'clock, and after giving that region the necessary once over Wednesday morning, went to Medix Run.

MORE TROOPS AND WARSHIPS ARE BEING RUSHED TO IRELAND AS TROUBLE GROWS

By WEBB MILLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, June 3—Despite the recent dispatch of strong military reinforcements to Ireland the movement of additional troops was imminent today. Two battle ships arrived at Plymouth where it was said 1200 marines and more than 1000 members of the Devon regiment were embarking for Queenstown. There seems to be no abatement of Sinn Fein attacks on military garrisons and other buildings in Ireland. Within the last 36 hours eight barracks in four counties were fired although the garison was successful n repelling the attacks. The Sinn Feiners operating in bands of 200 and 300 used rifles and bombs with effectiveness.

DUBLIN, June 2. Delayed—Desperate attacks by a large body of armed men were made simultaneously last night against police stations in Clare and Geshill, 14 miles apart. Telephone lines were cut and traffic temporarily suspended.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES AND ALUMNI BANQUET WERE PLEASING FUNCTIONS

The Commencement exercises of the Clearfield High School last evening, were witnessed by an audience composed of the relatives and friends of the seventy-four members of the graduating class, which crowded the High School Auditorium to capacity.

The interesting program was carried through without a hitch, the young folks acquitting themselves very creditably.

Following the Commencement exercises the Class of 1920, in company with the graduates of the years gone by, repaired to The Dimeling Hotel, for the purpose of participating in the thirty-eighth annual banquet of the Clearfield High School Alumni Association.

The banquet was attended by nearly two hundred members and all hands did ample justice to the admirable menu provided by Mine Host McGinnis.

A. D. Bigler, President of the School Board, presided over the business session, which followed the demolition of the "eats," while A. Roy Chase, Esq., acted as Toastmaster.

The welcome to the Class of 1920 was given by Mr. Chase and Clifford Shaw made the response, on behalf of the Class of 1920.

The "High School at Leonard Grade" was the subject assigned Miss Augusta Connelly, of the Class of '94, while Howard Stewart, of the Class of 1916, spoke on "The Relation of the Alumni to the High School."

Superintendent Zerfoss spoke on "The Future of the Clearfield High School," and Hon. J. Frank Snyder gave a few words of encouragement for both the Alumni Association and the School.

The business meeting resulted in the election of the following officers:

President—Howard Stewart.
Vice President—Wallace Smith.

Secretary—Elizabeth Bain.
Historian—Dorothy Woodford.

KIDNAPPEAS OF THIRTEEN MONTHS OLD NORRISTOWN CHILD MAKE GETAWAY

PHILADELPHIA, June 3—Finger prints and foot prints were investigated by the police as clews to the kidnappers of Blakely Couglin, 13 months old baby who was taken from his parents' home Wednesday night. Foot prints indicated that the abductors were a man and a woman who used an automobile in their escape, the police said.

Scores of detectives and school boys of Norristown aided by police dogs are searching the country around the Coughlin home for the boy. Experts examined the finger prints on the second floor window by which access was gained by means of a ladder. A reward of $1500 has been offered for the apprehension of the kidnapper.

The Delaware Legislaure adjourned yesterday sine die after absolutely refusing to pass the resolution ratifying the Woman's Suffrage Amendment to the Constithtion. Thirty-five states have already gone on record as favoring equal suffrage and now the eyes of the nation are fixed on Lousiana's lawmakers in the hope that they will see the necessity of granting all the women of America opportunity to vote for their next President. The Louisiana lower house voted favorably on the proposition yeserday, but the Senate is yet to be heard from.

BUILD THAT DAM THIS SUMMER

One of the improvements long contemplated for Clearfield is a dam at the river opposite the New York Cenral station of such height as to raise the back water sufficient to cover the mouths of the many sewers emptying into the river along through the town.

The river bank on both sides throughout the confines of the town is not only an eye-sore and disgrace to a progressive community but is a positive menace to the public health. The Board of Health mantains a number of patent fly traps about the town every summer and catches myriads of flies thereby, while more flies are created in the filth at the mouth of one of these open sewers in one day than are caught all season. Here is an opportunity to greatly lessen the fly nuisance by striking at the breeding places. Remove the cause and the effect is the best.

The necessary dam could be constructed for a reasonable amount of money and no doubt a part of the expense, at least, could be raised by popular subscription.

This matter has been discussed long enough; now is the time to act. Here is a town beautifying and health-improving proposition which should have the support of everybody. The Board of Health and different civic societies should take the matter in hand and see that the dam is built at this time.

Clearfield should and could have a most beautiful water front. Present conditions at low water are a disgrace to the town and community. The Progress will support any movement to improve the situation.

There Isn't a Store In the County That Couldn't Have Done The Same Thing

The last three weeks of May the LYTLE BROS. store sold its excellent merchandise at

20 Per Cent. Less Than Regular Prices

There was just one reason for it.

It was done from a conscientious sense of duty in an endeavor to help the people by stopping the general advance in prices.

There isn't a store in the United States that couldn't have done the same thing.

Many of them did. More power to them! Great success to them! The people will remember them.

Some of them didn't. Some of them abused us because we did. But never mind. We haven't time to stop to quarrel with the stone-throwers.

The One-Fifth Campaign Still Goes On

Tomorrow (and until we give notice, which can't be long now) you can have full choice of all the splendid Lytle Bros stock, with 20 per cent. deducted at the time of purchase.

We have received a lot of new goods since the great movement started May 8 and these new goods are here for your choosing and they get the same cut in price. You can make your choice from anything we have.

Added 50%

To Tire Mileage

A Clearfield dealer, for three years, has gathered data on Miller Tires. And he reports as follows:

Customers' tire mileage increased from 50 to 75 per cent.

Tire troubles have been eliminated.

Extra mileage has been accomplished.

Only one Miller Cord in 1,000 came back for adjustment—and by the Miller Cords are sold.

Not a dollar is spent for repaired wear and mileage adjustments—for which he reported. The consequent saving has caused him now to handle Miller Tires only.

A Clearfield garage has made million-mile comparison with 21 leading makes. And the Miller has by long odds

Why not put to such a comparison on your car. The Miller is the tire of today.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Floyd Lumadue, the boy who was scalded by the fat David Hemp on the farm now owned by Smith Brumfield who has been away from Curwensville for the last thirty-five years, circulated among old friends several days this week. Smith is now located at Rockway and is employed in the manufacture of leather.

Mrs. Lloyd Ritter died at the home of her son Judson Ritter, of the Homestead farm in Pike township, last Sunday. Deceased was aged 79 years, 1 month and 29 days. She had been sick for a long time and her death was due to general debility. Funeral services were held from the home on Tuesday afternoon and New Millport cemetery was the place of interment. Rev. Edwards officiated.

Miss Edith Bloom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bloom of Irvona, and Mr. Ralph Bell, of Curwensville, were united in marriage on April 30 at the parsonage of the Methodist Episcopal church in Curwensville by the Rev. Mr. Edwards. The bride was attended by Miss Ruth Bell, sister of the groom, and Mr. Bloom, brother of the bride, was best man. The bride is a graduate of the Irvona high school and for the past two years has been employed in the office of the Penn Central Light and Power company at Clearfield. The groom is employed by the Curwensville Lumber company. They will reside on the farm in Pike township recently purchased by the groom's father. Mr. Bell is a veteran of the late war having served overseas with the 28th Pennsylvania infantry.

The funeral of Gordon Boughman was held last Friday afternoon from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Washington Boughman, on Locust street, Rev. Edwards officiating. Interment was made in the Curwensville cemetery.

The body of Frank Williams, a stepson of the late John Wright, who died in DuBois on Sunday, was shipped to Curwensville for interment in the Wright family plot in Oak Hill cemetery. He was aged 51 years. Funeral from Baptist church Wednesday afternoon.

The Sunday School Convention of District No. 2 the program of which appeared in the Curwensville letter to The Progress one day last week, was held in the Presbyterian church on Wednesday. All of the Sunday Schools which are annexed to this district were fairly well represented and the topics discussed proved to be very interesting and instructive. The two days as well as the evening sessions, were well attended by all of those who are interested in Sunday School work.

The ball game on Monday afternoon between the home team and a club from New Millport, proved to be an interesting one as the tally board indicated at the close of the contest Curwensville on the game by a score of 5 to 2.

Dr. G. C. Jenkins, who spent almost a week at Harrisburg with his eldest son, B. Hess Jenkins, returned home and to his medical practice on Tuesday evening. Mr. Jenkins deemed to remain for a few days longer.

After the Commencement exercises in the Academy of Music Wednesday evening the Alumni Association of the High School repaired to the Presbyterian church where they enjoyed a banquet. Speeches by some of the older members of the alumni was indulged in.

C. S. Russell and wife motored to DuBois on Tuesday evening and spent several hours with friends in that city.

We have been requested to announce that Rev. C. R. Allenbach of Grace U. B. who was pastor of the Lutheran church at Clearfield for four years, before removing to Brockway, will preach in the Lutheran had killed Mrs Dolan had killed my great uncle But I could only conjecture as to the motive The police theory that it was burglary seemed as logical as any The more I pondered over the matter the more firmly I became convinced that there was a murderous criminal band at the back of it all No one man or two men could carry out all the deviltry even with the help of the telephone girl

I recalled too how I had been skillfully shadowed work that evidently required organization and employees I was convinced that Wirk and the telephone girl were only two—more that likely two minor members of a powerful body of criminals That it was this same sinister force that had caused Dolan's discharge from the office I was equally sure This sort of thing took brains far bigger brains than Wirk's or the evidence of possessing

A peculiar apathy came over me as I finished reading the account Never before had I so fully understood how Dolan's family circumstantial evidence I knew Perhaps I knew that I was absolutely innocent and I doubted much if we could get anyone else to believe it The mystery web had been woven with such malicious thoroughness that escape seemed impossible What was the use of my fighting further?

CHAPTER XIII.

Coming as it did as a climax to all the events the shock of old Dolan's murder sent me into another phase of mind from which I emerged with difficulty Without hope and even with little will I dully awaited the approach of Dolan's murderer

What hope I ever had been an opportunity to win Ethel's affection to become a cherished fellow conspirator I had myself to blame for In fact I had not actually three or four times put myself in the unexpected and disgraceful position of being acquitted of the most heinous motives Wirk was planning and I do not doubt all in which category Ethel was no exception had happened to be taking dictation at the time of Mr Dolan's murder Unfortunately Detective Welch Mr Gristom's letter and the note from my mother with Ethel told me of the old man's murder Mr Gristom had read from the newspapers had been originally handed to the latter by Ethel from whom I had learned of the news of Dolan's violent and hideous death My own mental condition at the moment when I thought of Ethel and her part in the tragedy was such that I hesitated to believe that she was other than innocent Yet since to say I found myself after mature reflection convinced that I had this belief even to have over said not in my own words I have done differently no matter even if I could have foretold what the future had in store for me

My sense of shame not of guilt possessed me I was aware of having done wrong to no one And in my own secret heart assured me that it was misfortune and not error on my part that had brought me here As every point in the strange chain of circumstances I felt that I had a right to a man of honor Should have acted My sense of innocence upheld me even though the deliberate malicious portion of evidence might have appeared to the police to the jurors to the whole world that I was a murderer Perhaps I should be ashamed to confess that my keenest sense of injustice was that every point I had done what I still believed to have been right Even such things as comfort and bodily well were counted

Yet of two whites of interest that I had in the moment was the question of the

"Oh, My Boy, My Boy!" She Had Cried as She Saw Me, "I Know You Didn't Do It"

the eternal goodness of the Mother heart ever ready to forgive ever quick to comprehend ever prompt to aid For one sweet hour we talked together more nearly like human beings than ever before in our lives Ethel and Cully I told her everything even to my wonderful but hopeless love for her But I added She was willing and anxious eager to help but what was there that she could do?—what was there that anyone could do?

It was hopeless for a long moment it threatened me as an acquaintance with the city and with motives ways to attempt to battle against such powerful and despicable criminals I was convinced in the first meeting I had to make to the police at the home of Mrs Dolan's parents I could only advise that Ethel and Mr McGregor and Gordon and be guided by what they suggested

When the inventory of my meager possessions I sent to the coroner in care of Dolan's attorney the matter for which I had not left Ethel spent all the latter hours of evening in the effort all the last evening I spent with what high hopes and great expectations I had come to the city and how misused everything had turned out for me Despite my hopelessness all but penniless into this dismal corner I was roused at last evidently by the desire to see whether I might have the chance to see those of changed the mood of my heart to avoid having a meal at this shrine of good Yet since to say I found myself after mature reflection convinced that I had this belief even to have over said not in my own words I have done differently no matter even if I could have foretold what the future had in store for me

My sense of shame not of guilt possessed me I was aware of having done wrong to no one And in my own secret heart assured me that it was misfortune and not error on my part that had brought me here As every point in the strange chain of circumstances I felt that I had a right to a man of honor Should have acted My sense of innocence upheld me even though the deliberate malicious portion of evidence might have appeared to the police to the jurors to the whole world that I was a murderer Perhaps I should be ashamed to confess that my keenest sense of injustice was that every point I had done what I still believed to have been right Even such things as comfort and bodily well were counted

BANG-UP BASEBALL TEAM IS SECURED

The Clearfield County Athletic Association is about ready for the opening of the baseball season in Clearfield and have plans completed for the placing of a bang-up team in the field to represent our town.

By the time the Park grounds are in shape the team will be on hand and everything in readiness for the opening game, which will be with DuBois on June 17.

The management of the team will be in the capable hands of T. Reilly Lytle and Manager Lytle has secured and signed up the following team:

Catcher.—McDonald, of the New England League.

Pitchers.—Daugherty, New England League; Conklin and Bowes, of Clearfield; Yates, pitcher and first base, of the University of Pennsylvania.

Second base.—Robinson, of Connie Mack's Athletics.

Third base.—Byrne, of Villanova.

Short stop—Dunchak, of Windber.

Outfield.—Kelly and Fauver, of Clearfield.

In addition to those named the Association and the management would like very much to have all the local ball players turn out to practice and try for the team, as it is the desire to give all the local lads a chance to make good.

In addition to the opening game on June 17, DuBois is scheduled for two games on July 5th.

Games have been arranged for with the Pittsburgh Collegians, the American Legion team of Butler, the Pennsylvania Railroad Shops teams of Altoona, Ridgway's professional team, while Philipsburg, Osceola, Houtzdale, Winburne and Morrisdale will also be placed on the season's schedule.

The diamond at the Park is being put in first class shape, while bleachers or comfortable seats are being placed advantageously about the ball grounds.

An effort will be made to give Clearfield bang-up baseball and the support of all the fans should be accorded the Athletic Association and the team.

A Master of Harmony

Early in life Ludwig van Beethoven displayed wonderful genius and fatality for improvisation. Vast power, intense passion and infinite tenderness are manifested in all his compositions, which abound more in overt manifestations than in grand and complicated harmonies.

Hours of practice and study, day after day—an understanding of each note as a mother of her child—and then the ability to interpret nature's language of sounds—the dash of storm-driven waves, the swaying of trees, the rippling of the mountain brook,—harmonizing the soft and tender melodies into a tuneful sonata—to please you and to thrill.

Genius and skill also have been combined to grow, to roast, to blend for you this rarest of coffees—

Americans who accompanied General Pershing into the Sulu archipelago into Mexico to chase Villa and into France to win the war from the Germans never tire of telling anecdote that show omethin, of the character and make up of the American commander

Once when in command down on nthe deserts of Chihuahua, he reprimanded a colonel for making his men march all day carrying a 60-ound field pack when empty trucks were going along the same road to the same destination

"An American soldier will work harder, live on less food and suffer more hardships than any other soldier in the world," said Pershing, commenting on the incident "but he can see no reason why this pack should not be hauled in empty trucks if the trucks are passing Neither do I"

"I saw a better character sketch of Genera Pershing than any writer can frame up," said a cattleman down at El Paso when "Blackjack" was located there "He squatted down in front of a camp fire at San Geronimo, frying his hardtack in the bacon grease of his mess pan, with the wind blowing sand into his face and food, and the General grinning good naturedly all the time while one of our cow-punchers spun a tale about a buffalo hunt he was on in the Little Canadian up in the Panhandle of Texas"

The announcement during the war with Germany that Pershing had adopted two French war orphans recalled a flood of tender memories to friends of Pershing on the Mexican border. It was while the General was in command there that his wife and three daughters were burned to death in the fire at the Presidia, San Francisco, in 1916

Pershing's hair, a chestnut brown, slowly turned to gray after the tragedy and frequently could be seen riding on the mesa beyond Fort Bliss alone with his great grief

Since his return from France, General Pershing has seen more time on his hands than at any time since he began his army career He has been in Washington winding up the affairs of the American army in Europe, at

Ward's LEMON-CRUSH

Have you ever noticed the cloudy appearance of Orange-Crush and Lemon-Crush while enjoying these rare-flavored drinks?

The reason for this cloudiness is also the reason for the unequaled deliciousness of Orange-Crush and Lemon-Crush—for it is caused by the uniform distribution throughout the drinks of thousands of minute particles of the actual fruit oil pressed from freshly-picked oranges and lemons.

The interesting process which has made this possible was perfected five years ago by N. C. Ward, and is exclusive with Orange-Crush Company. It marks one of the greatest steps forward ever taken in the preparation of soft-drinks, for it brings to you, without preservatives, the pure, delightful flavors which have made oranges and lemons the favorite fruits in every home. The cloudiness is your guarantee of genuineness, flavor and quality.

The booklet, "The Story of Ward's Orange-Crush and Lemon-Crush," gives full details regarding the making of these drinks. It shows how the delicate flavors are obtained by combining the fruit oils with purest granulated sugar and citric acid—the natural acid of oranges and lemons.

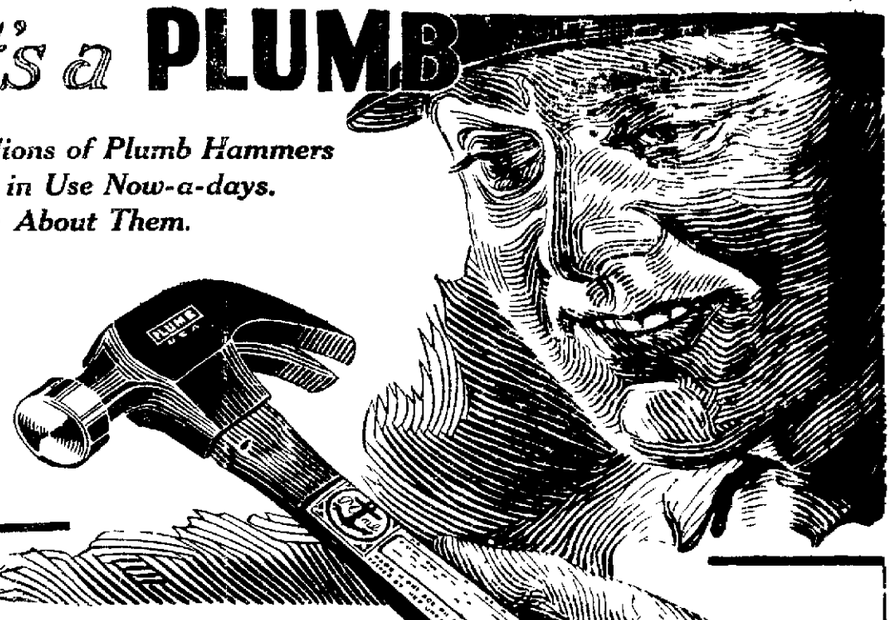
It's a PLUMB

Millions of Plumb Hammers Are in Use Now-a-days. Ask About Them.



WHEREVER you see a good job in carpentry you'll probably find that a Plumb Nail Hammer has been used. Note the little points of niceties in the job. Also note the Plumb user is generally an all 'round expert—who takes a keen pride in his handiwork.

The Hammer of Experts

Plumb Hammers are the result of a close study of conditions. To get a hammer that would "do the work best" we went to the users and found out from them what they required in a hammer. Hence the features that belong exclusively to Plumb Nail Hammers—the larger striking face with the weight centered in a chunk behind it—the claws with the extra curve—and short split giving extra leverage—the nipper-like edges that grip and hold any nail, big or little.

Note the famous Plumb Hand Comfort Handle that never tires or cramps—another exclusive Plumb superiority. This handle is made from heavy selected hickory chemically treated and beautifully mahoganized Note the handsome Hand-Forged Non-rust Finish that preserves the head from tarnish Remember the tapered eye anchors the head firmly on the handle.

tending numerous dinners and swinging around the country on an inspection trip of army camps and forts. Yet with all this to do, Pershing has found time to relax a little.

Pershing presents a magnificent appearance as a soldier. Tall yet stocky, he stands erect in his khaki uniform with a dignity and bearing that was complimented wherever he went in Europe. When he speaks in public, he is deliberate and emphatic, pausing often in his choice of words. His address is without an attempt at oratory, but he punctuates his speech by pounding his knuckles on the table in front of him. Generally, he leans forward on the table, resting on both arms.

"I'd rather fact a machine gun than an audience," is the bashful remark he so often makes when called on to speak in public.

John Joseph Pershing was born at Laclede, Linn county, Missouri, on September 13, 1860. His parents were of native stock and were among what we know as "just plain folks." "Jack" got his early education in the public schools of Laclede, a small town in the central northern section of Missouri. He was graduated with an A. B. degree from the Kirksville, Mo., normal school when he was 20 years old. Two years later he went to West Point bent on an army career.

Finishing the four year course, Pershing was assigned to 6th cavalry and was sent into the Apache Indian country, where trouble had broken out. His rank was second lieutenant. Then followed campaigns against the Sioux in the Dakotas under General Miles. By 1901 Pershing was a captain. He had subdued the fighting Sulus of Mindanao province. Philippines, had been an instructor at West Point and the University of Nebraska and had served with the cavalry in Cuba.

In 1903 President Roosevelt, saying he wanted fighting officers and not "muttonhead" officers, chose Pershing to hold a post on the newly organized general staff, along with Hugh L. Scott and Leonard Wood.

In 1905 Pershing was married to Miss Frances H. Warren, daughter of Senator Warren of Wyoming. The wedding took place in Washington. Soon afterwards Pershing was sent to Japan as an American military attache. While there he was with Kuroki's army in Manchuria. The following year he was transferred to the Philippines to be governor of the Moros he had conquered and was later put in general charge of the department of Mindanao of the United States army.

When bandit trouble broke out along the Mexican border in 1916, Pershing then in command of the 8th Brigade at the Presidio, San Francisco, was sent to head a punitive expedition into Mexico to drive down bandit leaders including the famous Villa. While in Chihuahua, Pershing heard of the fire at Presidio which burned to death Mrs. Pershing and their three young daughters. A son, Warren, was spared.

Pershing's friends have always "nailed" the tales about him in which his father-in-law, Senator Warren, was accused of obtaining advantages for Pershing through his office as chairman of the committee on military affairs in the senate. Fighting and hard work they always declare, was what won for the future American commander a brigadier-generalship in 1906 when he was promoted over the heads of 862 officers who were his seniors in rank.

As a result of his work on the Mexican border, Pershing was chosen to succeed General Fred Funston who died in 1916. As a further recognition, Pershing was picked from the entire list of American generals to head the American army to France in 1917. Pershing with his staff and first contingent of soldiers landed in England, June 8, 1917. Receiving an ovation, but losing little time in England, Pershing proceeded to France for immediate conferences with Allied commanders.

Establishing permanent headquarters at Chaumont, Pershing with his initial contingent of the 30,000 members of the First Division were ready for their share of the war burden. The first fighting took place early in September.

Pershing's return to America, September 9, 1919, was the signal for a series of demonstrations in his honor such as have rarely been accorded a returned conqueror. After staying in New York a week he went to Washington to report to the Secretary of War his conduct of the affairs of the Expeditionary forces. He established headquarters in Washington, and at length completed his report of American participation in the war.

In December, 1919, he started a tour of the country to visit army camps and to receive honors cities from coast to coast had prepared for him. His return to Laclede, Mo., his birthplace, was on December 24. Thousands of persons flocked to the little town where Pershing refused to ride in the carriage of state the committee had planned for him, but insisted on walking from the station to his former home.

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of indestructible material in the form of ashes so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material. This if not eliminated, forms toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Girls and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vitally more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, which bowel pores do.

Women who desire to obtain the beauty of their complexion should just try this for a week and notice results.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of salts to flush kidneys if blader bothers you—drink lots of water

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys ,they become overworked; get sluggish clog up and cause al sorts of distress particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few dayh and your kidneys will the nact fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemin juice combined with lithia and has been used for generation to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending blader disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithiawater drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep th ekidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

WARD OWENS HURT AT PATERSON CLAY WORKS EARLY TODAY

Ward Owens, 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Owens, of Lawrence township, was quite seriously injured at the Paterson Clay Works about 8 o'clock this morning. He was working on the clay dump, shoveling clay into the grinding pan when the accident occurred.

The clay from the mines is run into the plant and dumped from the tipple, a distance of 12 feet, to the platform alongside the pan, from whence it is shoveled into the pan.

A trip of cars ran onto the tipple, the signal was given and a car dumped. All the men in the shoveling crew stepped back out of the way but Owens, who was caught by the falling clay, knocked down and severely cut and bruised about the head and shoulders.

Fellow workemen rescued him from under the clay and Dr. Waterworth was summoned to the works, and after administering first aid, had the badly injured man removed to the hospital, where his injuries were attended to.

SAW AUTO ACCIDENT AND INJURY OF HER BROTHER IN DREAM

An instance of mind telepathy or "coming events casting their shadows before them," is reported from Grampian, in connection with the fatal automobile accident near Akron, Ohio, Monday morning last, in which four people were killed. The story as we get it, is as follows:

A sister of Elmer Rafferty, one of the victims of the tragedy, was visiting with another sister at Hepburnia, and retired to her couch on Saturday evening in the best of spirits and without a thought of sadness. Along toward Sunday morning she had a dream in substance that her brother had met his death by an accident. She awoke screaming with fright, sleep refusing to visit her again. Such an impression had the vision made upon her mind that she refused to remain with her sister during the day, to whom she recounted her dream. She went home and upon arriving there, the first bit of news that greeted her was the death of that brother, he family in Grampian having just received notification of the accident.

DELAWARE LEGISLATURE REFUSES TO RATIFY

DOVER, Del, June 2—The Delaware Legislature adjourned sine die at 3:30 p. m. today without ratifying the suffrage amendment. There was a test vote shortly before adjournment, when Representative Lyon, majority floor leader, attempted to force the House into kcommittee of the whole to consider the suffrage ratification resolution. Lyon's motion was lost by 24 votes to 10.

Three members of the Legislature early today received telegrams from President Wilson urging all Democrats in the House to vote for suffrage.

BATON ROUGE, La., June 2—By a vote of 93 to 17 the House today passed the resolution proposing an amendment to the state constitution providing equal suffrage. The resolution was put forward by opponents of the proposal that Louisiana ratify the federal suffrage amendment but in the vote today it was supported by many adherents of ratification.

MEDIX RUN REGION DEVASTATED BY FIRE

Reports from Medix Run last evening stated that it was raining quite briskly in that region and that if the moisture continued the large force of fighters would be enabled to place the forest fires that have been raging in that vicinity completely under control by morning. Without the coming of the rains it is probable that the damage would have been staggering.

As it was the fires had burned over an area of about 12 square miles, starting in at Huntleys and traveling through almost to Driftwood. The fire was of great intensity and cleaned up practically everything in its path. Fortunately the force of fighters was enabled to keep the flames out of the forest reserve so that none of the seedlings was destroyed.

There were two hunting camps destroyed, the Wood camp and the Stone camp. The last named camp is owned by DuBois people and represents quite a large loss. Although the structure was built almost entirely of stone, it burned readily, once the fire started. The camp and vicinity were well brushed but the wind carried sparks that caught somewhere around the building and within a short time it was burned to the ground. The party of members of the camp who left for the scene of the fire yesterday reached there in time to see the camp burn. Had they arrived one hour earlier the structure would have been saved. There was no fire in the immediate vicinity of the camp. The Lincoln farm, about 8 miles above Medix, was in imminent danger of burning last evening, but it is believed that the rains will extinguish the fires to a point where the farm can be saved.

Charles Zerby, the resident forester, immediately organized a large force of men and the fight against the flames started. The fire, however, had attained such a good start and the woods were so dry, that very little could be done. In all about 150 men engaged in the fight against the element, battling Tuesday, Tuesday night and yesterday. The men were becoming exhausted from the intense heat and hard work and greatly welcomed the coming of the rains. They went into camp last evening, as the rains gave prospect of continuing all night. It is expected to be an easy matter to conquer the flames this morning.

The seething flames formed a great spectacle from the station at Medix as they mounted towards the sky. Dense volumes of smoke pervaded the entire section. The onrush of the fire caused wild game to scatter in terror and the fire fighters saw hundreds of deer as they scampered away to a safe haven. The preserves were the Mecca for these deer. It is believed that many fawns were destroyed. It is the season for fawns and undoubtedly the fire caused the death of many. The fire fighters captured three fawns only a few weeks old. One of the young animals broke away from its captors and rushed back into the blazing woods. The other two were taken into camp and will be kept until they are able to take care of themselves.

Word reached Medix last evening that several of the officials of the forestry department at Harrisburg had left for the scene of the fire to conduct an investigation into the origin and extent of the fire. They will probably arrive this morning.

AKRON WRECK VICTIMS BURIED AT GRAMPIAN

The remains of Sylvester Rafferty, Albert Rafferty and Elmer Rafferty, three of the victims of the automobile accident near Akron, Ohio, early Monday morning last, were brought to their homes in Grampian yesterday.

The first two named were brothers and were sons of James A. Rafferty, while Elmer Rafferty was the son of Harry Rafferty. The bodies were taken to the Catholic church where they were viewed by the host of friends of the young men in the vicinity. The funeral occurred this morning from the church and was in charge of Funeral Director F. B. Leavy of Clearfield.

The young lady who was killed in the wreck was buried at Akron. Miss Katherine Rafferty, the fifth victim, and a sister of Elmer Rafferty, is a patient in the hospital at Akron and hopes for her recovery are now entertained.

BRADFORD FLYER DROPS IN ON US

Yesterday afternoon Clearfield people were given a few exhibition flying stunts not on any published program and the result showed that our people are still more or less curious about man-controlled air birds. About 3:30 o'clock a neat little Curtis machine appeared flying low over the town. The pilot circled the town a couple of times and as his motor was shut off it was soon see that the aerial visitor was seeking a landing place.

The kids enjoying the lower swimming hole near the Reed farm, saw the machine and quickwittedly marked a landing cross with their shirts and other unmentionables in the field along the river. The birdman swooped down, but when he noted the roughness of the ground he ascended again and describing a beautiful circle down the river, turned back when just below Spruce street and gracefully flopped down into the meadow along the state road on A. B. Reed's farm, just above the Children's Home.

The Progress scribe, accompanied by Moe Robinson, and four hundred other Clearfielders in half that many automobiles, followed the air man up the river and landed at the meadow as the flyer settled gracefully into the grass. When the pilot hopped out of his machine we promptly demanded to know his name, his home, his business, his idea in hanging up here and his previous condition of servitude.

The young man informed us his name was W. H. Emery, Jr., of Bradford, Pa., a relative of Lewis Emery, Jr. He said he had been doing some flying stunts at Johnstown Memorial Day and was on his way home. He had just sailed over from Indiana, and running short of gas, decided to tarry over night in Clearfield.

Of course when we found our visitor to be one of our constituents from the 21st Congressional District, we got busy at once and introduced the intruder to Mr. Reed and Farmer Gulich, who were not altogether sure that an airplane top-dressing with its attendant crowd of sightseers was the best thing in the world for the 1920 hay crop at that particular point. Pilot Emery satisfied them that it was not so bad and after he gave the Farmer a jaunt through the clouds, he saw things from a different angle. Mr. Reed was asked to give the machine a whirl, but said he preferred to look the matter over from the ground, and all was well.

Mr. Emery is arranging to organize an airplane building corporation at Bradford and is seeking out locations for flying fields in this section and contemplates one at Clearfield and one at Indiana. He will remain in Clearfield today and has arranged to take up a number of passengers for joy rides this evening. If you have a hankering to look down upon your neighbors, see Mr. Emery at the Reed farm.

FOREST FIRE ON LAUREL RUN

A forest fire swept the county at the headwaters of Laurel Run Tuesday afternoon and was only subdued after the most strenuous efforts by a crew of twenty-fice fire fighters under the direction of State Forester William F. Dague.

Billy Dague is about the busiest man in this region these days. As a sample of what he is up against during this exceptionally dry spring, he was in receipt of calls from three different regions Tuesday.

The forester at Snow Shoe again appealed to Mr. Dague for help for his section, while about the time he got the call to go to Laurel Run and was lining up his forces for that section another call came from the headwaters of Medix Run, near the Elk county line, where a fierce fire is raging.

Mr. Dague and a part of his force remained at the Panther Rocks camp Tuesday night, having the Laurel Run fire under control at 12 o'clock, and after giving that region the necessary once over Wednesday morning, went to Medix Run.

MORE TROOPS AND WARSHIPS ARE BEING RUSHED TO IRELAND AS TROUBLE GROWS

By WEBB MILLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, June 3—Despite the recent dispatch of strong military reinforcements to Ireland the movement of additional troops was imminent today. Two battle ships arrived at Plymouth where it was said 1200 marines and more than 1000 members of the Devon regiment were embarking for Queenstown. There seems to be no abatement of Sinn Fein attacks on military garrisons and other buildings in Ireland. Within the last 36 hours eight barracks in four counties were fired although the garison was successful n repelling the attacks. The Sinn Feiners operating in bands of 200 and 300 used rifles and bombs with effectiveness.

DUBLIN, June 2. Delayed—Desperate attacks by a large body of armed men were made simultaneously last night against police stations in Clare and Geshill, 14 miles apart. Telephone lines were cut and traffic temporarily suspended.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES AND ALUMNI BANQUET WERE PLEASING FUNCTIONS

The Commencement exercises of the Clearfield High School last evening, were witnessed by an audience composed of the relatives and friends of the seventy-four members of the graduating class, which crowded the High School Auditorium to capacity.

The interesting program was carried through without a hitch, the young folks acquitting themselves very creditably.

Following the Commencement exercises the Class of 1920, in company with the graduates of the years gone by, repaired to The Dimeling Hotel, for the purpose of participating in the thirty-eighth annual banquet of the Clearfield High School Alumni Association.

The banquet was attended by nearly two hundred members and all hands did ample justice to the admirable menu provided by Mine Host McGinnis.

A. D. Bigler, President of the School Board, presided over the business session, which followed the demolition of the "eats," while A. Roy Chase, Esq., acted as Toastmaster.

The welcome to the Class of 1920 was given by Mr. Chase and Clifford Shaw made the response, on behalf of the Class of 1920.

The "High School at Leonard Grade" was the subject assigned Miss Augusta Connelly, of the Class of '94, while Howard Stewart, of the Class of 1916, spoke on "The Relation of the Alumni to the High School."

Superintendent Zerfoss spoke on "The Future of the Clearfield High School," and Hon. J. Frank Snyder gave a few words of encouragement for both the Alumni Association and the School.

The business meeting resulted in the election of the following officers:

President—Howard Stewart.
Vice President—Wallace Smith.
Treasurer—James Mitchell, Jr.
Secretary—Elizabeth Bain.
Historian—Dorothy Woodford.

KIDNAPPEAS OF THIRTEEN MONTHS OLD NORRISTOWN CHILD MAKE GETAWAY

PHILADELPHIA, June 3—Finger prints and foot prints were investigated by the police as clews to the kidnappers of Blakely Couglin, 13 months old baby who was taken from his parents' home Wednesday night. Foot prints indicated that the abductors were a man and a woman who used an automobile in their escape, the police said.

Scores of detectives and school boys of Norristown aided by police dogs are searching the country around the Coughlin home for the boy. Experts examined the finger prints on the second floor window by which access was gained by means of a ladder. A reward of $1500 has been offered for the apprehension of the kidnapper.

The Delaware Legislaure adjourned yesterday sine die after absolutely refusing to pass the resolution ratifying the Woman's Suffrage Amendment to the Constithtion. Thirty-five states have already gone on record as favoring equal suffrage and now the eyes of the nation are fixed on Lousiana's lawmakers in the hope that they will see the necessity of granting all the women of America opportunity to vote for their next President. The Louisiana lower house voted favorably on the proposition yeserday, but the Senate is yet to be heard from.

BUILD THAT DAM THIS SUMMER

One of the improvements long contemplated for Clearfield is a dam at the river opposite the New York Cenral station of such height as to raise the back water sufficient to cover the mouths of the many sewers emptying into the river along through the town.

The river bank on both sides throughout the confines of the town is not only an eye-sore and disgrace to a progressive community but is a positive menace to the public health. The Board of Health mantains a number of patent fly traps about the town every summer and catches myriads of flies thereby, while more flies are created in the filth at the mouth of one of these open sewers in one day than are caught all season. Here is an opportunity to greatly lessen the fly nuisance by striking at the breeding places. Remove the cause and the effect is the best.

The necessary dam could be constructed for a reasonable amount of money and no doubt a part of the expense, at least, could be raised by popular subscription.

This matter has been discussed long enough; now is the time to act. Here is a town beautifying and health-improving proposition which should have the support of everybody. The Board of Health and different civic societies should take the matter in hand and see that the dam is built at this time.

Clearfield should and could have a most beautiful water front. Present conditions at low water are a disgrace to the town and community. The Progress will support any movement to improve the situation.

20 Per Cent. Less Than Regular Prices

There was just one reason for it.

It was done from a conscientious sense of duty in an endeavor to help the people by stopping the general advance in prices.

There isn't a store in the United States that couldn't have done the same thing.

Many of them did. More power to them! Great success to them! The people will remember them.

Some of them didn't. Some of them abused us because we did. But never mind. We haven't time to stop to quarrel with the stone-throwers.

The One-Fifth Campaign Still Goes On

Tomorrow (and until we give notice, which can't be long now) you can have full choice of all the splendid Lytle Bros stock, with 20 per cent. deducted at the time of purchase.

A Clearfield dealer, for three years, has gathered data on Miller Tires. And he reports as follows:

Users find their tire mileage increased from 50 to 125 per cent.

Tire worries have been eliminated.

Extra mileage has been accomplished.

Only a few 1,000 come back for adjustment—made by the Miller Goods on a year.

Not a dollar is spent for repaired wear and mileage allowances—for which he reported. The consistent supremacy has caused him now to handle Miller Tires only.

A Clearfield garage has made million-mile comparison with 21 leading makes. And the Miller has by godds.

We invite you to such a comparison on your car. The Miller is the tire of today.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Floyd Lumadue, a boy, who was placed by Mr. David Hemp on the farm now owned by Smith Brumfield who has been away from Curwensville for the last thirty-five years, circulated among old friends several days this week. Smith is now located at Rockway and is engaged in the manufacture of leather.

Mrs. Lloyd Bell died at the home of her son-in-law Judson Ritter, of the Homestead farm in Pike township, last Sunday. Deceased was aged 79 years, 1 month and 29 days. She had been ailing for some time and her death was due to a general breakdown of her health. Funeral services were held from the home on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Elwood Brown of Irvona officiating. Interment was made in the New Hope cemetery. Surviving relatives are the daughter with whom she lived and one son, Mr. Elwood Bell of Irvona and Lloyd, who is in the employ of the Curwensville Lumber Co. Deceased was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and Junior Order. She moved to this county from Pike township about five years ago.

The Pennsylvania Hide and Leather Company's large plant has been practically at a standstill this week, owing to some new shafting that is being put in so that some of the important machinery can be operated more rapidly and conveniently.

The body of Frank Williams, a stepson of the late John Wright, who died in DuBois on Sunday, was shipped to Curwensville for interment in the Wright family plot in Oak Hill cemetery. He was aged 51 years. Funeral from Baptist church Wednesday afternoon.

The Sunday School Convention of District No. 2 the program of which appeared in the Curwensville letter to The Progress one day last week, was held in the Presbyterian church on Wednesday. All of the Sunday Schools which are annexed to this district were fairly well represented and the topics discussed proved to be very interesting and instructive. The two days as well as the evening sessions, were well attended by all of those who are interested in Sunday School work.

The ball game on Monday afternoon between the home team and a club from New Millport, proved to be an interesting one as the tally board indicated at the close of the contest Curwensville on the game by a score of 5 to 2.

had killed Mrs Dolan had killed my great uncle But I could only conjecture as to the motive The police theory that it was burglary seemed as logical as any The more I pondered over the matter the more fully I became convinced that it was a murderous criminal band at the back of it all No one man or two men could carry out all the deviltry even with the help of the telephone girl

I recalled too how I had been skillfully shadowed work that evidently required organization and employees I was convinced that Wirk and the telephone girl were only two—more that likely two minor members of a powerful body of criminals That it was this same sinister force that had caused Dolan to resign from the office I was equally sure This sort of thing took brains far bigger brains than Wirk or the evidence of possessing

A peculiar apathy came over me as I finished reading the account Never before had I so fully understood how Dolan's untimely end could be due to circumstantial evidence I knew Dolan knew that I was absolutely innocent I doubted much if we could get anyone else to believe it The coincidence was too much even with such a ridiculous theory as mine Impossible What was the secret behind it?

CHAPTER XIII.

Coming as it did as a climax to all the events the shock of old Dolan's murder sent me into another phase of state from which I emerged with difficulty to pursue my task Without hope and even with little interest I dully went the appointed round of routine

What hope I ever had been an opportunity to win a little affection to replace the wealth of love and affection I had lost was gone In fact I had not the remotest idea of remaining more than a few days at the most in Dolan only for habit had become a necessity and the unexpected and dreadful end of both men left practically everything I had acquired of the past in the air Work was planned and undertaken with the sole purpose of keeping my mind from dwelling on the past There was no one to explain why I happened to be left out in the cold during the time of Mr Dolan's murder Unfortunately Detective Welch Mr Gristom's lawyer and the note from my mother with Dolan told me of the old man's intention Mr Gristom had kept aloof from the newspapers had refused to be interviewed by the police and had been unable to come to the scene Dr Lee of the News of Dolan's violent end had left before my arrival in a critical condition It was known that he changed his testimony at the last minute and left for Mexico with his family

I knew that the physicians summoned by Mr Gristom were right to be very careful of their patient and to let nothing interfere with his recovering that the least excitement or stress would be apt to have fatal results

So for a time there was my mother who could prove an Odonaugh but I felt there was little use of disturbing her before the ending of her months death Dolan had requested on from the Western Hotel and had been paid for and I knew that Dolan's funeral had been arranged for by Mr Gristom who should be notified of the time of the funeral I felt I ought to be present but I dreaded the ordeal with which I knew I should be confronted

Yet to stay away would be apt to have still more serious results

So to the funeral I went and I felt that I was right in doing so Dolan had been a man of honor Should have acted My sense of innocence upheld me even though the deliberate malicious portion of evidence might tend to point to me as the killer to the police to the public whose well that I was a murderer Perhaps I should be ashamed to confess that I felt a thrill of pride as I entered the church and saw the many floral tributes banked around the casket Dolan had been a man of power and influence and I was glad that I was to be seen as one of his friends

"Oh, My Boy, My Boy!" She Had Cried as She Saw Mc, "I Know You Didn't Do It"

The eternal goodness of the Mother heart ever ready to forgive ever quick to comprehend ever prompt to aid For one sweet hour we talked together more nearly as brother than ever before in our lives Dolly and Cully I told her everything even to my wonderful but hopeless love for Dolly Dolly Dolland She was willing anxious eager to help but what was there that she could do?—what was there that anyone could do?

It was hopeless for a long time I refrained from telling me as an acquaintance with the city and with motives ways to attempt to battle against such powerful and despicable criminals were combined in the fascinating girl to make me the tool of their boundless resources I could only advise that she see McGregor and Gordon and be guided by what they suggested

When the reading of my will actually took place I felt as the representative of Dolan that my task was finished I had not kept all the promises I had made to Dolan but I had done my best and I felt that I had been unjustly treated by the old man's family Dolan had left me a small sum of money and had requested that I keep all the articles that I had brought to his study I felt that I had been unjustly dismissed But promises into this dismal room I refused of all I had carefully dusted seeing to see whether I might leave the room without disturbing anything I noted that this shrine of evil was to me as I found it Yet some of the articles had been moved Dolan's collection of weapons had been disturbed Some one had been in the room since I had left it

Nothing of value was missing but the disarrangement of the articles suggested that the police had been there or that of the lawyers left with keys during that the least curiosity of one of them would be apt to have led to this

So for a time there was my mother who could prove an Odonaugh but I felt there was little use of disturbing her before the ending of her months death Dolan had requested on from the Western Hotel and had been paid for and I knew that Dolan's funeral had been arranged for by Mr Gristom who should be notified of the time of the funeral I felt I ought to be present but I dreaded the ordeal with which I knew I should be confronted

The Clearfield County Athletic Association is about ready for the opening of the baseball season in Clearfield and have plans completed for the placing of a bang-up team in the field to represent our town.

By the time the Park grounds are in shape the team will be on hand and everything in readiness for the opening game, which will be with DuBois on June 17.

The management of the team will be in the capable hands of T. Reilly Lytle and Manager Lytle has secured and signed up the following team:

Catcher.—McDonald, of the New England League.

Pitchers.—Daugherty, New England League; Conklin and Bowes, of Clearfield; Yates, pitcher and first base, of the University of Pennsylvania.

Second base.—Robinson, of Connie Mack's Athletics.

Third base.—Byrne, of Villanova.

Short stop—Dunchak, of Windber.

Outfield.—Kelly and Fauver, of Clearfield.

In addition to those named the Association and the management would like very much to have all the local ball players turn out to practice and try for the team, as it is the desire to give all the local lads a chance to make good.

In addition to the opening game on June 17, DuBois is scheduled for two games on July 5th.

Games have been arranged for with the Pittsburgh Collegians, the American Legion team of Butler, the Pennsylvania Railroad Shops teams of Altoona, Ridgway's professional team, while Philipsburg, Osceola, Houtzdale, Winburne and Morrisdale will also be placed on the season's schedule.

The diamond at the Park is being put in first class shape, while bleachers or comfortable seats are being placed advantageously about the ball grounds.

An effort will be made to give Clearfield bang-up baseball and the support of all the fans should be accorded the Athletic Association and the team.

A Master of Harmony

Early in life Ludwig van Beethoven displayed wonderful genius and fertility for improvisation. Vast power, intense passion and infinite tenderness are manifested in all his compositions, which abound more in overmen series than in grand and complicated harmonies.

Hours of practice and study, day after day—an understanding of each note as a mother of her child—and then the ability to interpret nature's language of sounds—the dash of storm-driven waves, the swaying of trees, the rippling of the mountain brook,—harmonizing the soft and tender melodies into a tuneful sonata—to please you and to thrill.

Genius and skill also have been combined to grow, to roast, to blend for you this rarest of coffees—

Americans who accompanied General Pershing into the Sulu archipelago into Mexico to chase Villa and into France to win the war from the Germans never tire of telling anecdote that show omethin, of the character and make up of the American commander

Once when in command down on nthe deserts of Chihuahua, he reprimanded a colonel for making his men march all day carrying a 60-ound field pack when empty trucks were going along the same road to the same destination

"An American soldier will work harder, live on less food and suffer more hardships than any other soldier in the world," said Pershing, commenting on the incident "but he can see no reason why this pack should not be hauled in empty trucks if the trucks are passing Neither do I"

"I saw a better character sketch of Genera Pershing than any writer can frame up," said a cattleman down at El Paso when "Blackjack" was located there "He squatted down in front of a camp fire at San Geronimo, frying his hardtack in the bacon grease of his mess pan, with the wind blowing sand into his face and food, and the General grinning good naturedly all the time while one of our cow-punchers spun a tale about a buffalo hunt he was on in the Little Canadian up in the Panhandle of Texas"

The announcement during the war with Germany that Pershing had adopted two French war orphans recalled a flood of tender memories to friends of Pershing on the Mexican border. It was while the General was in command there that his wife and three daughters were burned to death in the fire at the Presidia, San Francisco, in 1916

Pershing's hair, a chestnut brown, slowly turned to gray after the tragedy and frequently could be seen riding on the mesa beyond Fort Bliss alone with his great grief

Since his return from France, General Pershing has seen more time on his hands than at any time since he began his army career He has been in Washington winding up the affairs of the American army in Europe, at

Ward's LEMON-CRUSH

Have you ever noticed the cloudy appearance of Orange-Crush and Lemon-Crush while enjoying these rare-flavored drinks?

The reason for this cloudiness is also the reason for the unequaled deliciousness of Orange-Crush and Lemon-Crush—for it is caused by the uniform distribution throughout the drinks of thousands of minute particles of the actual fruit oil pressed from freshly-picked oranges and lemons.

The interesting process which has made this possible was perfected five years ago by N. C. Ward, and is exclusive with Orange-Crush Company. It marks one of the greatest steps forward ever taken in the preparation of soft-drinks, for it brings to you, without preservatives, the pure, delightful flavors which have made oranges and lemons the favorite fruits in every home. The cloudiness is your guarantee of genuineness, flavor and quality.

The booklet, "The Story of Ward's Orange-Crush and Lemon-Crush," gives full details regarding the making of these drinks. It shows how the delicate flavors are obtained by combining the fruit oils with purest granulated sugar and citric acid—the natural acid of oranges and lemons.

Send for this free booklet today. You will better understand why Orange-Crush and Lemon-Crush enjoy the largest sale of any fruit-flavored drinks in the world.

It's a PLUMB

Millions of Plumb Hammers Are in Use Now-a-days. Ask About Them.

WHEREVER you see a good job in carpentry you'll probably find that a Plumb Nail Hammer has been used. Note the little points of niceties in the job. Also note the Plumb user is generally an all 'round expert—who takes a keen pride in his handiwork.

The Hammer of Experts

Plumb Hammers are the result of a close study of conditions. To get a hammer that would "do the work best" we went to the users and found out from them what they required in a hammer. Hence the features that belong exclusively to Plumb Nail Hammers—the larger striking face with the weight centered in a chunk behind it—the claws with the extra curve—and short split giving extra leverage—the nipper-like edges that grip and hold any nail, big or little.

Note the famous Plumb Hand Comfort Handle that never tires or cramps—another exclusive Plumb superiority. This handle is made from heavy selected hickory chemically treated and beautifully mahoganized Note the handsome Hand-Forged Non-rust Finish that preserves the head from tarnish Remember the tapered eye anchors the head firmly on the handle.

"They're Worth More"

tending numerous dinners and swinging around the country on an inspection trip of army camps and forts. Yet with all this to do, Pershing has found time to relax a little.

Pershing presents a magnificent appearance as a soldier. Tall yet stocky, he stands erect in his khaki uniform with a dignity and bearing that was complimented wherever he went in Europe. When he speaks in public, he is deliberate and emphatic, pausing often in his choice of words. His address is without an attempt at oratory, but he punctuates his speech by pounding his knuckles on the table in front of him. Generally, he leans forward on the table, resting on both arms.

"I'd rather fact a machine gun than an audience," is the bashful remark he so often makes when called on to speak in public.

John Joseph Pershing was born at Laclede, Linn county, Missouri, on September 13, 1860. His parents were of native stock and were among what we know as "just plain folks." "Jack" got his early education in the public schools of Laclede, a small town in the central northern section of Missouri. He was graduated with an A. B. degree from the Kirksville, Mo., normal school when he was 20 years old. Two years later he went to West Point bent on an army career.

Finishing the four year course, Pershing was assigned to 6th cavalry and was sent into the Apache Indian country, where trouble had broken out. His rank was second lieutenant. Then followed campaigns against the Sioux in the Dakotas under General Miles. By 1901 Pershing was a captain. He had subdued the fighting Sulus of Mindanao province. Philippines, had been an instructor at West Point and the University of Nebraska and had served with the cavalry in Cuba.

In 1903 President Roosevelt, saying he wanted fighting officers and not "muttonhead" officers, chose Pershing to hold a post on the newly organized general staff, along with Hugh L. Scott and Leonard Wood.

In 1905 Pershing was married to Miss Frances H. Warren, daughter of Senator Warren of Wyoming. The wedding took place in Washington. Soon afterwards Pershing was sent to Japan as an American military attache. While there he was with Kuroki's army in Manchuria. The following year he was transferred to the Philippines to be governor of the Moros he had conquered and was later put in general charge of the department of Mindanao of the United States army.

When bandit trouble broke out along the Mexican border in 1916, Pershing then in command of the 8th Brigade at the Presidio, San Francisco, was sent to head a punitive expedition into Mexico to drive down bandit leaders including the famous Villa. While in Chihuahua, Pershing heard of the fire at Presidio which burned to death Mrs. Pershing and their three young daughters. A son, Warren, was spared.

Pershing's friends have always "nailed" the tales about him in which his father-in-law, Senator Warren, was accused of obtaining advantages for Pershing through his office as chairman of the committee on military affairs in the senate. Fighting and hard work they always declare, was what won for the future American commander a brigadier-generalship in 1906 when he was promoted over the heads of 862 officers who were his seniors in rank.

As a result of his work on the Mexican border, Pershing was chosen to succeed General Fred Funston who died in 1916. As a further recognition, Pershing was picked from the entire list of American generals to head the American army to France in 1917. Pershing with his staff and first contingent of soldiers landed in England, June 8, 1917. Receiving an ovation, but losing little time in England, Pershing proceeded to France for immediate conferences with Allied commanders.

Establishing permanent headquarters at Chaumont, Pershing with his initial contingent of the 30,000 members of the First Division were ready for their share of the war burden. The first fighting took place early in September.

Pershing's return to America, September 9, 1919, was the signal for a series of demonstrations in his honor such as have rarely been accorded a returned conqueror. After staying in New York a week he went to Washington to report to the Secretary of War his conduct of the affairs of the Expeditionary forces. He established headquarters in Washington, and at length completed his report of American participation in the war.

In December, 1919, he started a tour of the country to visit army camps and to receive honors cities from coast to coast had prepared for him. His return to Laclede, Mo., his birthplace, was on December 24. Thousands of persons flocked to the little town where Pershing refused to ride in the carriage of state the committee had planned for him, but insisted on walking from the station to his former home.

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material. This if not eliminated, forms toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Girls and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vitally more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, which the bowel pores do.

Women who desire to obtain the beauty of their complexion should just try this for a week and notice results.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of salts to flush kidneys if blader bothers you—drink lots of water

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys ,they become overworked; get sluggish clog up and cause al sorts of distress particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few dayh and your kidneys will the nact fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemin juice combined with lithia and has been used for generation to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending blader disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithiawater drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep th ekidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.
